Sarojini Naidu College for Women is organizing a quality related national seminar on the need of contemporization of the curricula as well as the infra structure of the institutions including teaching methodologies, research activities and administrative principles. This will serve as a platform where experienced and young mind will gather to exchange views and ideas on this matter.

During the second decade of the twenty first century India has progressively become a super power in Asia and we are hoping in the coming years it will acquire a prestigious position in the world scenario as well. Higher education institutions are the pillars for catering knowledge to the young generation to equip them with the power to bring about overall progression. With the advancement of technology, HEIs need to be more equipped with scientific and technical knowhow so that they produce more able minded citizens. Simultaneously we need to gather people from all spheres of the society so that there is all round development throughout the country. Thus there is need of contemporization not only in subjects based on Science and Technology but humanities as well.

This seminar will enlighten and invigorate not only the members of Sarojini Naidu College for Women but also the other participants from HEIs of inside and outside West Bengal.
