Child Welfare: A Global Perspective

International Symposium

About us

Founded on the 14th of August 1956 as a college dedicated to the rehabilitation of refugees, Sarojini Naidu College for Women is one of the premier institutions for women's education in the northern suburbs of Calcutta.

Initially affiliated to Calcutta University, it now enjoys affiliation under the West Bengal State University and offers quality education in Arts, Commerce, Science and Management streams.

SNCW is dedicated to the advancement of knowledge, learning and understanding in the service of society. The college has a dedicated and sincere faculty for whom the general well-being of the students is of utmost importance.

"The welfare of children is a common good and the first and foremost responsibility of society."

- Pope Francis

About the Symposium:

Child welfare is a critical issue that affects children around the world. It encompasses a range of policies, programs, and practices aimed at promoting the well-being of children, especially those who are vulnerable or disadvantaged. A global perspective on child welfare recognizes the importance of cultural and regional differences, as well as the need for international cooperation to address common challenges such as poverty, abuse, neglect, and exploitation. Child welfare practices should prioritize the best interests of the child and aim to provide a safe and supportive environment where children can thrive and reach their full potential.

Today's Symposium provides us with a unique opportunity to come together and collaborate towards a better, more equitable future for all children.
